

Proceedings for Midwest Cover Crops Council February 28 and 29, 2012

West Lafayette, Indiana

Invited Papers, State/Province Updates, and Presentations

Papers: MCCC members are invited to submit research or extension cover crop papers, fact sheets, and reports on replicated cover crop trials.

State/Province Updates: Each state/province is asked to submit a written report on research, extension, policy/communication, or other activities involving cover crops in their area. This would preferably be a brief listing of activities and contact people for each main activity area, along with the main contact person (Executive Committee member) for that state/province.

Note: state/province oral reports on Tuesday afternoon will be limited to 20 minutes. We suggest highlighting a few activities in a little more detail, rather than reciting the list of everything going on this time, but each team may use their 20 minutes as they wish.

Presentations: Invited speakers are requested to submit an “extended abstract” of about 2 pages; or a short (2-5pg) paper written specifically for this conference; or your powerpoint presentation with some commentary; or an Extension article already written that would summarize many of your main points.

Deadline: Please submit all Papers, State/Province Updates, and Presentations by February 14th to Eileen Kladvko (kladvko@purdue.edu). We intend to copy submissions and place into folders for all participants. Anything submitted after the deadline will not be included in the printed materials (unless you bring copies with you) but will be included in the electronic proceedings found on the MCCC website: www.mccc.msu.edu.

Additional materials you may want to bring for free pick-up by interested attendees:

You may bring copies of any other extension materials that you want to make available to attendees, but that either don't make the deadline or you think they might not be of interest to all participants or that are too large for us to copy for all participants. There will be a table for these materials.
